

Syllabus

[cmcd.economia@fgv.br]

Course Name: Labor Economics

Faculty:

2024 FIRST SEMESTER

COURSE OUTLINE

This is a graduate-level course in labor economics. It explores the underlying factors that drive labor supply and demand and provides a comprehensive overview of a range of labor market policies.

COURSE PROGRAM

1. Labor supply
2. Labor demand
3. Competitive equilibrium and compensating wage differentials
4. Education and human capital
5. Job search

BIBLIOGRAPHY

The bibliography for this course will include a selection of classic and recent papers. During class, you will receive a comprehensive list of all these papers.

Textbook

Cahuc, P., Carcillo, S., and Zylberberg, A. (2014). Labor Economics. The MIT Press, second edition.

GRADING

As part of the course requirements, students will be assigned papers to read and present in class. The specifics of the assignment will vary depending on the number of students enrolled.

The final grade for the course will be based on two components: class participation (30%) and the presentations and discussions of the assigned papers (70%).

CONTACT